BANKERS TOBE
GRILLED TO PROBE

Financiers Will Be Asked to Explain Their Concessions in Nicaragua.

SENATORS TO DIG DEEP

Douglas Testifies He Is Under Salary from Republic—Side Issue to Treaty.

Members of the banking firm of Brown Brothers and of Seligman & Co. will be subpoenaed to testify as to their interests in Nicaragua, before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, it was learned yesterday. Others who will probably be summoned in connection with the investigation of Nicaraguan affairs are Milton C. Keith, of the United Fruit Company, and John Gray, attorney for Mr. Keith, for the United Fruit Company, and for the late Samuel H. Jarvis, who at one time planned to take over the Nicaraguan Railroad, and with his friends controlled the National Bank of San Domingo.

The investigation is partially the result of the pending Nicaraguan treaty, which is being considered by the Foreign Relations Committee, the very country Bryan appeared before the committee again yesterday.

Gray to Be Grilled.
It is expected that Mr. Gray, an attorney of Delaware, will be grilled over his relations at the State Department, where he has long represented a number of corporations. In this inquiry the subcommittee of the Foreign Relations Committee will be particularly interested, since Boas W.
Long, whose nomination as Minister to Honduras it is now investigating, testified that Mr. Gray interested himself in his candidacy enough to approach several Senators and ask them to vote for Long's confirmation. Long said he first met Mr. Gray when the latter represented some New York interests which desired a railroad concession in Honduras, the very country to which Long has been appointed Minister.

Minister of Finance Cuadro, of Nicaragua, and the Nicaraguan Minister to the United States will go on the stand today before the committee to explain what would be done with the $3,000,000 it is proposed to pay that country under the treaty.

Douglas on Stand.
Attorney Charles A. Douglas, who, with Secretary Bryan, occupied most of the time yesterday, admitted that probably Nicaragua had no contract involving a contingent fee. He was questioned closely on this point, as there have been many rumors about the amount of money which would be paid to the country.
Douglas rather surprised the committee by stating that he was on a salary.

NAVAL OFFICER FINED
FOR ESCAPE IN AUTO

Ensign Alston Simpson Pays $50 on Charge of Speeding in Annapolis.

HIS COMPANION IS RELEASED

Annapolis, Md., June 22.—On a charge of exceeding the speed limit in driving an automobile, Ensign Alston Simpson, who was operating the machine that collided with a carriage and then ran down three boys in the county road, just outside of this city last Saturday night, was fined $50 by Police Justice Minnick today.

Lieut. Poteet, U. S. N., was a passenger with Ensign Simpson. Both officers were tried on charges of exceeding the speed limit, operating a car without a license, and operating a car while under the influence of liquor. The charges against Lieut. Poteet were dismissed, as it was shown that he had no connection with the operation of the automobile. Simpson promptly paid the fine.

The hearing before Justice Minnick consumed nearly two hours owing to the number of witnesses. While there was some testimony to the effect that the officers had been drinking, there was nothing to show that they were under the influence of liquor.

Ensign Simpson admitted that he was running at the rate of between fifteen and twenty miles an hour going down West street, but said that he slowed down considerably after crossing the railroad tracks and approaching the carriage.

DEBRIS HAS A BRUISE; BOLT OR AUTO GUILTY?

Watchman, Who "Belonged" to the Wrecked Shanty and Was in It at the Time, Knows Not!

There is a difference of opinion as to what struck and demolished a watchman's shanty at New Hampshire avenue and E streets northwest, last night, when E. Carter, the colored watchman of a building in course of construction there, found the roof and walls of his nocturnal retreat falling in on him. Everything had been knocked, kicked, or blown into perfect debris.

The funniest thing of all, though, is that Carter, who told the police he took several days probably for him to recover from astonishment. Something hit the shanty when he was inside eating his midnight lunch by lantern light, and the next thing he knew Jack Hines, of 1724 Quebec street northwest, was dragging him from under the wreck.

Hines told Carter, a bolt of lightning struck the shanty and Carter said that's what it must have been—there was a good deal of lightning flashing in the sky about the time—and he got into Hines' car and was taken to his home at 2118 Champlain street northwest. Hines then called on the police and told them that the shanty was taken to his home at 2118 Champlain street northwest. Hines
then called on the police and told them
that the shanty was taken to his home at 2118 Champlain street northwest.

The police looked over the wreck, placed a lot of red lanterns where they do the most good and then reported that it seemed to them an automobile had hit the shanty. Lieut. Donagan found a bruise on the debris that might have been made by an automobile, he thought.

SWAT THAT FLY NOW!
Washingtonians are urged to continue war against the fly. According to the health department, splendid work is being done by housewives, husbands and children in destroying the germ-carrying pest, but it is hoped even better efforts will be put forth to exterminate the filth breeder. Scientists say enough flies to bury the entire earth forty-seven feet deep will be the extent of the 1914 crop if the present generation of disease-bearers are not killed.

HOUSE VOTES 100 TO 6
FOR LABOR EXEMPTION

Democrats Again Go on Record Favoring Anti-Trust Clause Presented in Sundry Civil Bill.

ROOSEVELT'S NAME DRAGGED IN

By a vote of 100 to 6 the Democratic House again went on record last night in favor of legislation exempting labor unions from prosecution under the antitrust laws.

The issue was presented on this occasion by a provision in the sundry civil bill forbidding the Attorney General to bring suits against labor unions and voluntary association of farmers an appropriation of $300,000 allowed for proceedings instituted in the courts under the Sherman anti-trust act.

Republican orators rebuked the arguments advanced against the exemption clause of like import, although general in character, contained in the Clayton anti-trust bill. Representatives Moore and Graham denounced the legislation as vicious in principle, and declared that it was an effort on the part of Democrats to make political capital by conveying the impression that they were attempting to make labor a privileged class.

Representative Moore accused the Progressives of bringing the name of Theodore Roosevelt into the discussion. Mr. Moore insisted that Mr.
Roosevelt was opposed to the principle of exempting any class from prosecution under the law.

"He particularly is opposed to legislation of this kind," said Mr. Moore.
"You have no authority for that statement," exclaimed Representative Bryan, a Bull Moose from Washington.

"Yes, I have," replied Mr. Moore. Mr.
Moore then proceeded to read a part of a statement made to labor leaders, headed by Samuel Gompers, on the occasion of their visit to the White House during the Roosevelt administration. Mr.
Moore quoted President Roosevelt as addressing the labor leaders in these words:

"Understand me, gentlemen, if I ever thought a combination of laborers were doing wrong I would apply for an injunction against them as quickly as possible."

Mr. Moore insisted that this declaration applied to the exemption provision of the Clayton anti-trust bill now pending in the Senate, and that it applied with equal force to the provision in the pending sundry civil bill.

"It makes me tired," remarked Bull Moose Bryan, "to hear stand-patners getting up here and professing to speak for Theodore Roosevelt. It reminds me of the time when the Devil quoted Holy Writ."

PARISH TAKES OUTING.
Communicants of St. Patrick's Enjoy Their Annual Excursion.

St. Patrick's parish gave its eleventh annual excursion yesterday to Marshall Hall. The steamer Charles Macalester made three trips. On one it left the down-river resort at 8 o'clock, bringing home the younger children and those who had wearied of the charms of the Hall. Many orphan children of the parish were guests, being cared for by the Sunday School Association.

A program of athletic events had been prepared by a committee, consisting of Charles Burke, F. E. Mitchell, Bryan McKenna, Henry Wolf, Walter Pealy, Fulton Holmes, Michael Lyons, and Charles Robinson. Prizes were awarded the winners.

A committee, including A. C. Joy, J. P.
Madigan, George Menke, Charles Burke, William Lepley, J. F. Mankin, E. E.
Fisher, John Fitzgerald, James Fitzpatrick, James Lachery, and F. E. Mitchell, had charge of transportation.
